Topics Discussed:

One more week to go. So far everything has been going very good. This week we discussed about all what is left from the project to be complete: network representation, Gantt Charts, final schemata, updated requirements and what is left from coding.

Decisions Made:

We already divided duties and some samples are already made so today we are reviewing everything to check if everything is alright in order to be able to submit everything by next week. In the other meeting next week everything needs to be done and updated to fulfill all the project requirements as needed.

Tasks Assigned:

We still are keeping the same duties division as last time as functional requirements (girls) and us guys take care of non-functional requirements. Also the same division as last time will be kept to update the schemata and everything will be checked again by all of us together by next week.
